Professional Experience

Alternate Digital Feb 2026 - Present
Senior AI Product Designer,

Founded Alternate Digital to help businesses build AI into their design workflows. While contracting at Kerv Digital, I led the adoption and approval of Figr AI, working with internal teams and Figr's co-founders. I delivered AI-generated design systems exported as reusable TSX components. I also created Markdown (MD) files that documented design guidelines and gave AI tools and developers consistent context. I connected design, business analysis and development through AI-generated user stories and MCP server integration. I also helped shape Figr AI's product roadmap and became a Brand Ambassador for the platform.

FamilyFlo, Jan 2024 – Jan 2026
Senior AI Product Designer,

Designed an AI-driven app focused on simplifying and organising the chaos of day-to-day family life. Responsible for product vision and UI/UX that harness artificial intelligence to streamline household management and provide smart, adaptive tools for modern families.

Prolific, Remote/London Jan 2023 – Jan 2024
Senior Digital Designer, (Permanent Fixed Term Contract, FTC)

Prolific is a fast growing start up specialising in online research with 130K+ participants and thousands of well-known household names using the platform to conduct their research. Having received $33.7M in funding they are cutting edge within the AI market - with companies using Prolific for human-in-the-loop training of their LLMs.

After Prolific worked with an external agency to re-brand, I was brought in as an FTC to roll out the brand using the guidelines. This consisted of updating the online marketing assets such as the website, display ads, social media posts, infographics, and refreshing the printed marketing materials including conference stands, flyers, business cards and eBooks. Finally creating merchandise to entice employees and customers enhancing their experience.

Blend Digital Agency, Reading 2022 – 2023
Senior Digital Designer

Worked with a diverse range of B2B clients, applying best practice principles to deliver seamless, high-quality digital experiences across web and mobile channels, with a strong agency focus on HubSpot-driven campaigns. Specialised in designing pixel-perfect websites, engaging social media campaigns, and performance-focused landing pages within HubSpot, ensuring every project passed through a rigorous proofing process.

Served as a senior designer responsible for both UX and UI of website projects, collaborating closely with cross-functional teams in wireframe workshops and leveraging FigJam to optimise client outcomes. Led the design and execution of targeted social media campaigns and high-converting HubSpot landing pages, presenting prototypes to stakeholders with account managers and integrating real-time feedback.

Reporting to the Creative Director, contributed creatively alongside junior and senior designers and art directors, exchanging ideas and pushing creative boundaries. Passionate about mentoring junior designers, played a key role in team expansion and recruitment, while actively maintaining a professional network of designers on LinkedIn.
